1. The managing directors of the railway administration of Manchuria are:

WANG Tzu-wen (王子文), Chinchou; HUANG Ching (黄竞), Mukden; LIU P'ei-ch'i (刘佩琦), Kirin; YU Kuang-sheng (余光生), Harbin; and CHIANG Ch'un-mao (姜春茂), Tsitsihar. PAI Tieh-yen (白铁岩), (also reported as PAI Ming-chu, 白名驹), is director of the Harbin Railway Workshop.

2. All telephone-telegraph systems of the Manchurian railways are controlled by the Soviets. At each key sector of each railroad, including the Chinese Changchun Railroad, a Soviet deputy railway section inspector is posted. These officials have much greater authority than their nominally superior Chinese railway section inspectors.

3. Since February 1950, the Chinese Changchun Railway has been virtually operated by the Mukden and Harbin Railway Administrations, most of whose section chiefs and department heads are Soviets.
